9. WHY A GROUP COURSE?

We've found that students not only learn better but also retain and work towards outcomes better when they have a group of peers to share the experience with, lean on each other and cheer each other on.

You'll find your peers ask questions you forgot to ask that end up being exactly what you needed to know, or that your questions are extremely useful for others.

There's much to learn from shared experiences and when you feel like you're in it together it completely transforms the entire experience.

You'll probably end up making life-long friends across the globe. Students we taught over 10 years ago are still friends today even though they are scattered across the world – they even meet up now and then or organise reunion concerts.

It's awesome!
